The College of Nursing provides the opportunity for students to participate in the Texas Woman's University Honors Scholar Program. The program seeks to develop scholars with excellent technological, writing and research skills as well as clinical expertise. Discussion. This study revealed that practical courses were perceived to be the most important in nursing education by the participating graduate nurses. Purpose. The purpose of this study was to describe and evaluate whether nurses have documented patient care in compliance with the national nursing documentation model in electronic health records, which means the use of the nursing process and the use of standardized terminology in different phases of the nursing process.
