Medical record filing systems enable providers to store information securely and retrieve it efficiently. Filing systems also protect patient-identifiable data. The type of health information system that a provider uses often depends on the type of facility, its size, the number of patients it treats and the volume of records it keeps. The main scope of the Medical Records Division is to provide an array of support services to our beneficiaries. Services provided include: Registration, Medical Records Copy Requests, Transmittals (between medical facilities), and Release of Medical Information. Our commitment is to ensure that each service member and their families are provided with prompt and courteous service at all times.
