Through the three small, tall designer windows at my feet, the Seattle waterfront; ahead, Puget Sound; in the distance, rain showers; and in the front cockpit of a replica World War I Vickers Vimy, gently shivering, the realization that those who flew these planes in their day, without heat, without GPS or even VOR, without search and rescue helicopters, were truly men. The Sopwith Pup was a British single-seater biplane fighter aircraft built by the Sopwith Aviation Company. It entered service with the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Naval Air Service in the autumn of 1916. Light Flight Hot Air Balloons provides flight training for Lighter-than-Air (LTA) Private and Commercial Hot Air Balloon licenses. While we offer rides in our biplane, we don't provide fixed wing or airplane flight instruction. Dear Jerome, Greetings Since childhood your website added fuel to my inborn aviation instincts a great piece of art work. May Almighty God bless you for this unique piece of work, Jerome seriously wished if I could get Information on flight decks of B-787 and A350-XWB, from your website.
