

Download Procedural Texts For High School

A procedural text instructs your audience on how to complete a specific task. Generally this then falls into two categories, how to make something and how to do something. The purpose of a procedural text is to provide sequenced information or directions so that people can successfully perform activities in safe, efficient and appropriate ways. This PowerPoint presentation has been designed to teach your students about the text structure and language features of procedural texts. It addresses the following content: an overview of the purpose and types of procedural texts; an explanation of procedural text structure, with annotated examples. If you teach “how to” or procedural writing, whether as a standalone unit or as one aspect of a study of informational writing, great mentor texts are gold. The right models can help take your students’ writing from “blah” to “wow.” Good trade book examples of this type of writing can ...
